RE: In re: Uber Technologies, Inc. Passenger Sexual Assault Litigation, MDL No. 3084 CRB

Your Honor:

I respectfully apply to serve as Co-Lead Counsel of the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee in this MDL. Managing this litigation, including addressing the public safety issues and urgent need for justice and closure for traumatized victims, will require robust leadership with demonstrated success in advancing complex litigation quickly and dedication to cooperation. I have nearly 15 years of experience prosecuting mass torts and other complex cases, including leading hundreds of lawyers and thousands of claimants across multiple jurisdictions to swift, successful resolution. I am honored to have the support of an experienced and diverse group of colleagues for my application.<sup>1</sup>

Professional Experience in This Type of Litigation

My experience managing mass torts and complex litigation, combined with advocacy on behalf of women and trauma victims, makes me uniquely suited to lead here. I am an "all-around player," in that I have a strong background in building and managing effective teams to resolve complex legal and discovery issues, while also taking key depositions, handling significant experts, interfacing with the court on case management, and negotiating complex global settlements.

I currently serve as Liaison and Co-Lead Counsel in In re Juul Labs, Inc., Mkt, Sales Prac. & Prods. Liab. Litig., No. 19-02913 (N.D. Cal.) (Judge Orrick). This matter involved more than 7,000 lawsuits on behalf of personal injury claimants, an economic injury class, government entities, school districts, and Native American tribes alleging that JLI and Altria's (formerly Philip Morris) conduct in marketing, design and distribution of the Juul e-cigarette contributed to a youth vaping epidemic that caused myriad public and individual harms.

I led a large team of law firms through intensive discovery, challenging legal briefing and arguments, multiple waves of pretrial preparation, bellwether trial, and ultimately, a historic resolution—all in record time. I also facilitated all communication and scheduling with both Judges Orrick and Corley. After less than two and a half years, I negotiated a global settlement with JLI and related Defendants for all four plaintiff groups, including a $255 million class settlement. Following the JLI settlements, I led our continued litigation against Altria, trying the first bellwether on behalf of San Francisco Unified School District (“SFUSD”) in April 2023. Immediately after SFUSD rested its case, we secured a second aggregate settlement with Altria totaling $235 million.

Before Juul, I litigated more than 3,000 tobacco cases in the Middle District of Florida. I managed all aspects of those cases, including motions, expert discovery, defeating due process and preemption challenges at the district, circuit, and certiorari stages, and trying thirteen jury trials to verdict, including two as lead trial counsel. I managed four trial teams involving three law firms, while simultaneously overseeing all aspects of pre-trial, post-trial, and settlement work over multiple waves of trials spanning two years. Our trial success and overall case management strategy led to an unprecedented $100 million settlement, the only group settlement to date of cigarette smokers’ injury claims. I managed the settlement process, achieving 100 percent participation.

Additionally, I have served in leadership in several litigations, including on the executive committee in Gilead Tenofovir Cases and Coordinated Actions, JCCP No. 5043, where I am the Federal-State Liaison. I am also currently serving as Court-Appointed Settlement Class Counsel in the In re Flint Water Cases, No. 16-10444 (E.D. Mich.) litigation.

Throughout my career, I have litigated on behalf of women (as well as some men) who have suffered trauma and highly emotional and physical injuries. For example, I served as co-interim class counsel in the In re Pacific Fertility Center Litigation, No. 18-01586 (N.D. Cal.) (Judge Corley) and as Co-Liaison Counsel in a parallel state JCCP proceeding (JCCP No. 5021), advancing negligence and product liability claims on behalf of women and couples whose eggs and embryos were compromised when a fertility center storage freezer failed. These cases demanded urgency—every passing month, my clients’ fertility options dwindled due to the unforgiving biological clock. Facing a nearly two-year stay on discovery in the JCCP after defendants appealed an order denying their motion to compel arbitration,<sup>2</sup> I coordinated with claimants in the federal court action to press ahead on common issues and discovery and ultimately facilitated global resolution in those cases, bringing closure and emotional relief to hundreds of families. In my formative years as a young associate, I worked on bellwether cases in the Yaz birth control injury litigation on behalf of young women, Yasmin and Yaz (Drospirenone) Marketing, Sales Practices and Products Liability Litigation, MDL 2100, deposing fact witnesses and physicians and opposing motions. I also have successfully represented women who suffered serious and highly sensitive personal injuries—and related emotional and sexual trauma—due to complications from allegedly defective trans-vaginal surgical mesh.

Additional information regarding my experience and qualifications is contained in Exhibit B. I have provided a list of the names and contact information of judges before whom I have appeared in Exhibit C.

Ability to Work Cooperatively With Others

My most valuable contribution to any coordinated litigation is my ability to work together with partnering and opposing counsel, utilizing a mix of communication, leadership, and social skills. In Juul, I managed an effective, inclusive, and diverse team and coordinated across multiple jurisdictions. In particular, we worked together with independent leadership in a parallel JCCP, coordinating all aspects of discovery (core case management orders, depositions, document production, etc.) and pushing to global settlements. I am proud that many of my colleagues in Juul publicly tout that the litigation was the best-run and most enjoyable MDL in which they have ever participated. Additionally, then-Magistrate Judge Corley has remarked that Juul was a model MDL for its civility—a topic on which I recently presented at a national judge’s conference with Juul’s Liaison Counsel, Renee Smith.

In addition to my litigation work, I serve in a leadership role in several organizations, including co-chairing the Resource Board of the National Association of Women Judges. I was recently elected by my peers to serve as Financial Secretary and member of the Executive Committee for the Consumer Attorneys of California. Before law school, I was a Coro Fellow in Public Affairs, where I received intensive leadership training, and was a lobbyist for Planned Parenthood in Kansas, where I learned how to build coalitions, work across the aisle to find common ground, and resolve disputes respectfully.

<sup>2</sup> Based on my clients’ experiences, I lobbied in support of SB 263 to eliminate the automatic stay on discovery pending appeal of an order denying a motion to compel arbitration under the California Arbitration Act. Governor Newsom recently signed the bill and it is now in effect.

Efforts to coordinate with other plaintiffs' counsel with diverse skills and backgrounds, many of whom support this application, are well underway, and will prepare us to efficiently prosecute this matter. I have given presentations to and led discussions with these lawyers on issues of import to the case, and in October 2023, my firm convened an all-hands meeting attended by over 25 plaintiffs' attorneys to update on the legal and factual issues driving the litigation and address issues of common strategy.

Resources Available to Prosecute the Litigation in a Timely Manner

Lieff Cabraser Heimann and Bernstein ("LCHB") is a 126-plus lawyer AV-rated firm founded in 1972, headquartered in San Francisco with offices in New York and Nashville. As one of the nation's largest plaintiff-side firms, we can and will commit the human and financial resources necessary to prosecute this litigation. We have served as court-appointed counsel in hundreds of coordinated and complex litigations throughout the country. Recent examples in this District include In re McKinsey & Co., Inc. National Prescription Opiate Consultant Litig. (MDL 2996) and In re Social Media Litigation (MDL 3047). LCHB was also Co-Lead Trial Counsel in the Opioids MDL bellwether trial before this Court on behalf of the City of San Francisco. LCHB's main office is conveniently located near the Court. We have extensive facilities necessary to host depositions and conferences and to serve as litigation and trial team headquarters. Our team is also highly experienced in managing all administrative aspects of leading a modern MDL, including maintaining an updated case website, hosting virtual meetings, tracking filings, maintaining service lists, processing invoices, auditing timekeeping, and handling data.

Present and Future Ability to Commit to Time-Consuming Litigation

I appreciate the time, energy, and resources necessary for effective leadership. With the Juul litigation largely resolved, I can confirm that I have sufficient time and capacity to lead this case. The experienced and diverse LCHB team anticipated to work on this matter also includes partners Elizabeth J. Cabraser and Andrew R. Kaufman, along with associates Caitlin Woods (Nelson) and Annie Wanless.

LCHB represents dozens of women who have suffered from sexual misconduct caused by Uber, including in 2 cases filed to date.<sup>3</sup> Not only am I an advocate, I am also a survivor of sexual assault. My personal experience shapes my perspective and fuels my drive to obtain justice. I look forward to the opportunity to use my skills, experience and resources to quickly and effectively drive resolution for victims and implement reforms that will make the industry safer for future passengers.

Respectfully,

Sarah R. London
